

HOVERING

SOLO EXHIBITION

BY

MICHAL SHELLY

Lives and works in Tel-Aviv and exhibited in Israel and Over sea. Michal Sheli's works do not focus on any specific period of life or around specific events, They serve as an expression for an overall philosophy of life.

It's a delicate meeting where her canvas and her unique individual totality displays in its entirety, in each painting anew. Every work endows experiences accumulated over numerous years with a plastic expression.

The shapes seem to float, connect and disintegrate and reconnect in infinite space. They do not seek to reconstruct reality but to evoke in the viewer a language of emotional and abstract experience. Like a glimpse into a creative process intertwined with emotional and mental restraints, while the lines and dots spinning on the canvases evoke intense emotional storms in contrast.

The territory of each work is charged with the tension between the painter and the painting, and presented to the viewer as an invitation to a space of inquiry and search. This type of search casts the viewers into the roles of active researchers who reveal the meaning of what awaits to be revealed from each work.
